HOPE COALITION AMERICA

HOPE Coalition America is the central programming arm of Operation HOPE's national disaster and preparedness division, HOPE Inside Disaster. The coalition is a collaboration of senior executives and professionals from banking and financial services, insurance, and other related industries.

Additional partnership and support come from other sectors as well, including higher education, social service, and community service agencies, which provide financial and economic guidance and assistance to individuals and small businesses affected by disaster.

Nationally recognized first responder agencies, American Red Cross and the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), address immediate health, safety, and infrastructure needs after disasters. HOPE Coalition America strengthens and aids recovery efforts by assisting individuals and business owners with the short, medium, and long-term economic and financial challenges they face following disasters and emergencies. HOPE Coalition America does not provide direct financial aid. However, our team will work diligently with you to obtain the resources and financial help you need to facilitate your recovery.
